Reflection - needs work indicators

- Evidence submitted consists mostly of words like you, your, our, we or staff where the learner could have used I, me or my.
- Learner lists or repeats things from the learning materials without offering any insight into why these are relevant to their own practice.
- The learner fails to mention what actions they will take to improve their future practice or only speaks about what other people will do.
- Instead of identifying future improvements, the learner focuses on things they already know or do well.

Reflection – satisfactory indicators

- Learner mostly uses words like I, me and my throughout any answers talking about their own learning and practice.
- Learner explains why what they learned is important to them.
- Learner explains how what they learned might improve their future practice.
- Learner writes about the actions they need to take to improve their practice.

Reflection – exceptional indicators

- Learner uses words like I, me and my consistently throughout any answers talking about their own learning and practice.
- Learner identifies significant improvement(s) they can make to their future practice and is clear about how they will achieve this.
- Learner shows insight into how their actions will impact on outcomes for people who are using their service.
- Learner indicates how they will evaluate or seek feedback on any changes they make to their practice.

Activity 3

Read the example submissions. How would you score these for reflection?
